CRAIG CUSTANCE

Craig Custance is a senior writer for ESPN.com and ESPN The Magazine, where he's been covering the National Hockey League since 2011. Before that, he was the national hockey writer for the Sporting News, a position he held for three years. He got his start in journalism at the Atlanta Journal-Constitution, where he worked for a decade as a reporter after graduating from Michigan State University with a journalism degree in 1999.

Custance is a 1995 graduate of Sterling Heights High School and lives in Clinton Township with his wife Cassie and their three children.
